- Although the Conference Centre does cater for strict medical diets, such as, diabetes, true celiac, lactose intolerant, and vegetarians, all meals served are prepared in a community kitchen according to industry guidelines. The chef will make an alternative meal only for those nominated medical diets for which he has received a request no less than one week before the commencement of the Walk to Emmaus.
- It is not possible to provide options for other preferences, such as low carbs, high protein, no saturated fats, other life style choices, etc. However, you are able to make your own choices from the meals offered.
- If you are a diabetic or need to eat more frequently than at regular breaks, please collect an extra piece of fruit or two at the meal breaks to take back to the conference room with you. The kitchen coordinators are unable to be responsible for this. You may consider bringing some of your own snack food to the Walk.
